„BROADWAY AND HOLLYWOOD IN STRIDE AND SWING“

Stephanie TRICK & Paolo ALDERIGHI - Jazz Piano Duo

Great Songs from the Great American Songbook

Beginning in the late 1920s, Broadway composers began working for the film industry in Hollywood. In fact, 1927 marked the end of the silent film era with "The Jazz Singer," starring Al Jolson. From that moment, the composers of the Great American Songbook, such as Jerome Kern, George Gershwin, Richard Rodgers, and others, became active not only on Broadway but also in Hollywood.

The relationship between jazz music and the soundtracks of American films of the '30s, '40s and '50s is evident: they are very often compositions in song form that lend themselves well to being interpreted in a jazz style. Many of these pieces have become beloved "standards," performed in numerous versions by the jazz greats.

Stephanie and Paolo are excited to return to Villa Inniger and present their original arrangements of hits from the 1920s through the 1960s, featuring songs by George Gershwin, Leonard Bernstein, Harry Warren, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern, concert not to be missed!
