Stephanie is an accomplished pianist, specializing in Harlem stride, an orchestral and virtuosic style of two-handed piano playing that developed on the East Coast in the 1920s. A native of St. Louis, she graduated with a major in music from the University of Chicago in 2009 and is now playing professionally across the country as well as in Europe with an emphasis on classic jazz. For more information and to sample her sound, there are videos on her website. She has released three CDs, the most recent one being Hear That Rhythm!
